Trial of Mayor Hall of New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—At Hall's trial to day the Mayor said he proposed to show that the present Board of Auditors had adopted the same practice as that during May, June and July, 1870. He said that the duties of the Board during that time were enough to crush the brains of any ordinary man, and every bill could not be examined, and is not now. Tremaine, for the prosecution, argued that the question was irrelevant, and the Board was appointed to stand between claimants and tax-payers, and was guilty if they failed to examine bills. The court decided in accordance with the views of the prosecution, and the case proceeded. A number of vouchers, some of those upon which the Mayor was indicted, were shown a witness for identification. Though the latter appeared to be genuine the Mayor remarked that he had doubts as to his signature to some other certificates and several warrants and vouchers. Thirty-four in favor of Garvey were examined, and the signature of the Mayor identified, all but two being admitted by him to be genuine. Ex-County Auditor Lines testified that he saw nothing to lead him to suppose the warrants were fraudulent at the time they were issued. He described the office routine in such matters, and said all requirements had been complied with. Court then adjourned.

Garvey, the ring plasterer, was in court. It is reported he will be a witness against the Mayor.

Great Spread of the Horse Disease.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—The horse disease has disabled thousands of horses here and appears to be spreading over New England. One of the Omnibus lines have stopped and the street railways are much embarrassed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 24.—The horse disease has passed the crisis here and is now abating. But few died, and of those more from hard usage than from the disease. Canal horses have almost entirely recovered. No boats have stopped and now grain is moving as freely as usual.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The horse disease is seriously affecting transportation and business of all kinds here and in Brooklyn; having made alarming progress for the past twenty-four hours. Three-fourths of all the horses in the city are affected,—the greatest proportion being among railroad and stage horses, of which 70 per cent. are sick, while of private coach and other horses better cared for, only 45 per cent. are affected. It is estimated that 15,000 horses are under treatment. Two car lines and one stage line are stopped.

AUGUSTA, Oct. 24.—The Canadian horse disease has reached here and many horses are afflicted.

Trial of McWilliams and Doyle.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The trial of Chief of Police McWilliams and detective Doyle, of Jersey City, for complicity in the Jersey City bank robbery, commenced to-day. Dennan, one of the robbers, testified that McWilliams told him that there were $2,000,000 in the bank, and for 20 per cent. of the plunder, agreed to have hand-cuffs so fixed on the robbers' hands as to permit them to slip off and escape.

Tweed will Defend to the Last.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Tweed says emphatically that he intends to fight his case through to a conclusion. He remarked to a reporter, "I am compelled in going to trial to bear the offenses of every other man charged with the same offense. The prosecution boasted that if they can convict me it will be easy to convict Hugh Smith, Connolly, James M. Sweeney and others. I suppose it will be, if they can catch any of them. Others know well enough that if I am not convicted they will never be prosecuted, and so I have not only all their sins to bear, but all their expenses to pay. Why don't the newspapers say something of others?" Tweed's trial will probably not occur until next year.

Weed on Greeley.

Thurlow Weed wrote in 1870 a lengthy letter to Hon. Thomas Ashton, reviewing Greeley's political career. The letter is now published for the first time. It reviews especially Greeley's sentiments and actions during the war, and says: "When the war commenced, Greeley arrogantly assumed the right to dictate a policy for the administration and command of the army long before the President, Secretary of War or Commander-in-Chief of the Army deemed it prudent to make a forward movement. Greeley issued and reiterated in the Tribune his well remembered and ominous order of "On to Richmond." Such was its power over the minds of the most impulsive of people and an impatient Congress that, wholly unprepared as we were, our army was prematurely forced to disastrous defeat. For that cruel slaughter of undisciplined troops and for that humiliation of the Government and people, Greeley, in a remorseful moment, confessed himself greatly to blame. Subsequently during the darkest days of the rebellion, and especially when our armies were defeated, the Tribune either howled for peace or turned with denunciation against the President and our army commanders. During the progress of the war none were more jubilant for success than Greeley; but when reverses came his croaking voice was heard in thrill and discordant demands for peace."

Enforcing Sunday Liquor Law.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The question of enforcing the Sunday liquor law is absorbing the attention of both friends and opponents of the ordinance. Large meetings were held last night by both parties, the Germans representing mainly the opposition. They passed resolutions requesting the Mayor to suspend the enforcement of the ordinance until the new City Council are elected, pledging to vote for no candidate for State, county or city office who is not known to be opposed to temperance laws. Temperance people have announced a determination to put a strict temperance ticket in the field for members of the Legislature.

Married in Haste, Repenting at Leisure.

In the Supreme Court yesterday Judge Mapy rendered a decision in the case of Lyndon vs. Lyndon, in which the complainant, a young daughter of a prominent and wealthy citizen, and who recently married her father's coachman, sued for a divorce on the ground of being deceived into the marriage. The court denied the decree, and the plaintiff took an appeal to the Supreme Court of the State.

Personal.

The illness of John A. Griswold, of Troy, New York, is not so dangerous as at first reported.

Tom Fields is said to have gone to Havana or the West Indies, where the extradition treaty cannot cover charges against him.

An Undesirable Addition to Our Population.

A Washington dispatch says the attention of the Secretary of State is called to the abuse persisted in on the part of petty German States in transporting pardoned murderers and highway robbers to this country. It is urged that the Secretary should intervene promptly to arrest this very bad practice.

More of the Horse Disease.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The disease has now spread to every stable in the city and symptoms are visible in nearly every horse on the streets. The weather has been rainy all day, which is unfavorable to suffering animals. Cars are still running very heavily crowded, but many lines withdrew additional cars. If distemper continues unabated, it is probable the demands of business will require running of dummy engines in the streets, and a repeal of the law forbidding carriage on sidewalks.

LEWISTON, Oct. 25.—Several hundred horses are sick with distemper, but there are few fatal cases.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—A veterinary surgeon states that a few cases of the horse disease appeared here. Preventive measures are being taken in all large stables.

RICHMOND, Oct. 25.—The horse disease is unabated. Horses are much worse than yesterday, and the loss to business is very great. Canal horses appear to have the disease in a milder form.

NEVADA.

HAMILTON, Oct. 25.—About 8 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a building on Treasure street, occupied by a colored family, and owned by Charles Blethen, of San Francisco. House and furniture were a total loss. A vacant house adjoining was torn down to prevent the spread of the fire.

Snow fell yesterday to the depth of two inches, the first of the season.

Stages are now running daily to and from Pioche, heavily loaded.

Hon. C. C. Goodwin, Republican candidate for Congress, and Hon. O. W. Kendall, Liberal Republican candidate, passed through this morning, en route east.

WINNEMUCCA, Oct. 25.—G. L. Woods, Governor of Utah, and Judge Hawley, Republicans, discussed politics here last night, to a large audience. Much enthusiasm prevailed.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Appearances indicate that the race between Occident and Lucy to-morrow will be more largely attended than any other exhibition of the sort ever given in the State. Tickets for the occasion have been selling very fast all day.

The Straightout Democratic State Committee has determined to put up candidates for Congress in every district, and not to indorse any who are now in the field.

An assay of Gold Bluff sand, recently made in this city by Houston, shows $229 11 gold and $148 silver; total, $230 59. It is in this material that the Table Bluff Mining Company propose to operate with its diving apparatus, having placed its machinery in shape. The company will commence operations about the 10th of next month.

In the Municipal Court to-day John Butler, convicted of robbery, was sentenced to four years imprisonment in the State prison.

The Brotherton forgery case is still on trial in the Municipal Court.

The Judge of the U. S. Circuit Court to-day sentenced John Smith to pay a fine of $50 and costs for passing a spiel mark here as money.

Ninety eight cargoes of wheat have been cleared from this port this year.

The Stock Board will meet at 10 o'clock to-morrow, so as to get through business in time for the races.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The Grant Invincibles paraded to-night in full uniform, over 1,000 strong, and with brilliant lanterns made a fine appearance as they passed through the streets. They wound up with a grand jubilee chorus at Union Hall, which was filled to repletion, the entertainment consisting of songs, glees, choruses, short speeches, etc. As the Invincibles were passing along Montgomery street, a hoodlum standing near Sacramento street, threw a rock into the procession, which luckily for him did not injure any one. The ruffian was soon surrendered and given in charge of the police who took him to the lock up, where he gave the name of John Shay, and was booked upon two charges, one for disturbing the peace and the other using vulgar language to an officer.

The Nellie Grant Blues made their first appearance to-night in new uniforms, and won much admiration by their fine appearance.

The amount of banking capital in this city, as represented by returns made by the banks to the Internal Revenue Office, is about $48,000,000 on a currency basis. Of this, $40,000,000 is deposits. Of the whole amount at least $40,000,000 is loaned out on various securities, consisting mostly of city real estate.

Arrived—schooner Page, from Cook's Inlet, via Kodiak, with salmon, furs, etc.

Weather cloudy and wind southwest.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, Oct. 25.—The Chas. Luling completed loading and was towed down to San Francisco. Another wheat vessel arrived at the wharf this morning, which makes the nineteenth vessel at this port the present season.

SATURDAY MORNING OCTOBER 28 1872

IN MEMORIAM

The painful duty devolves upon us of announcing the death of Major Simeon Francis, which took place at his residence in this city on yesterday the 27th instant at half past twelve o clock P M

Major Francis was born at Weathersfield, Connecticut, in June 1792 and was therefore eighty years of age at the time of his death When a boy he went to New Haven where he learned the business of printing in the office of Mr Barbour then one of the oldest printers in the country He went thence to New London, where associated with a Mr Clapp, under the firm name of Francis & Clapp he published the New London Gazette till June, 1824 when he sold out and went to Buffalo, which was then regarded as a new town on the Western frontier Here he formed a co partnership with a gentleman named Lazelle, and the firm published the Buffalo Emporium

In 1829, both his parents having died he, together with his brothers and sisters (he being the eldest and looked to as the head of the family), removed still farther west and in 1831 he commenced the publication, at Sprinfield, Illinois, of the Sangamon Journal, the name of which was afterwards changed to the Illinois State Journal He continued the editor of that paper, he and his brother Allen Francis, late Consul at Victoria, being the proprietors, till the year 1855 a period of twenty five years In 1859 he came to Oregon, and in the early part of 1860 took the editorial charge of the Oregonian, which was then a weekly paper He continued editor of this paper till the latter part of 1861, and was in its editorial chair when the daily edition began to be issued On the 3d of August 1861, he was appointed by President Lincoln to the position of Paymaster in the Regular Army, with the rank of Major, but did not enter upon the duties of his office till April, 1862 From that time till October, 1867, he was stationed at Fort Vancouver, W T, when, being placed upon the retired list, he returned to Portland where he lived the remainder of his life.

Major Francis, during his whole life, was forward in every good work Quiet and unostentatious, he was one of the most industrious and energetic men we ever knew His mind was always busy with devising good, and his hand was always ready to take hold of whatever it might do to benefit his fellow creatures It was largely through his efforts that the Illinois Asylum for the Insane was established, and he was one of the Board of Managers of that Institution for eight years He found time while conducting his paper at Springfield to study the wants of the agricultural community of that new region, and was one of the first who undertook the introduction of such intelligent methods in the farm and orchard in that State, as should elevate the occupation of farming to the position of a systematized and organized branch of industry He organized the Sangamon County Agricultural Society, the first association of the kind in Illinois, and was its first President Out of this society sprang the Illinois State Agricultural and Pomological Societies, he being President of both He was the first President of the Oregon State Agricultural Society, having contributed more, probably, to its formation than any other man in the State

Major Francis was a man of extensive reading and liberal culture, but that for which he was most distinguished was the goodness of his heart and the depth of his friendships Like Abraham Lincoln, with whom he enjoyed the most intimate personal relations for a great many years, he would rather be remembered as a true friend than as a man of brilliant parts

He was a member of the Order of Free Masons, and a Master as early as 1821, when his membership was in Union Lodge, New London, Connecticut.

He lived the life of a Christian, and with a Christian's hope and strength he walked through the valley of the shadow of death, fearing no evil

We first met Major Francis in the Oregonian office in 1860, and were with him, residing in his family, during the first year of his service in the army, and have enjoyed his friendship ever since, and it is with feelings of inexpressible sadness for his loss, and of profoundest respect for his memory, that after twelve years of intimate friendship, we sit in the chair he occupied when we first knew him, and pen this brief record of his life and of his departure

The deceased leaves a widow and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss

Democratic Ticket

The Straightout Democrats of Lane county have nominated an Electoral ticket for O'Connor and Adams, and are resolved to stick to their principles and let the soft shells and office seekers of the party, run the Greeley coalition alone Their ticket is composed of Hon. S. Ison of Baker county, Hon Ben Hayden of Polk county, and Hon H C Huston of Lane county They earnestly invite all true Democrats in the State to co operate with them for the election of these gentlemen The ticket is very respectable in point of ability and though there is little prospect of its success, there can be no question that the Democrats who support it will do more to resuscitate and revitalize the party organization, than those who go into the anything to beat Grant arrangement, by which the organization is surrendered up to a few soreheaded Republicans and the principles of the party are wholly abandoned

The organization of the Willamette River Transportation Company, the particulars of which appear in another column, is an omen of good to the farmers It is to be hoped that a healthy competition will now spring up on the river, based upon the principles of living and letting others live The gentlemen who have embarked in this enterprise are abundantly able to carry it on to success and we hope they may find the investment one that will pay reasonable profits and at the same time allow the producer some compensation for his own investment The prosperity of the country will be advanced by such a competition as will bring freight charges down to the lowest figure at which the carrying can be done with reasonable profits to the carrier What the people of Oregon want is cheap transportation and that they cannot expect to have so long as the freighting business is in the exclusive possession of one person or company

The survivor of the late tragedy at Dallas by which young Whitley lost his life seem inclined to renew the fray An altercation is said to have taken place last Monday night between one of the saloon keepers and one of Whitley's friends in which the latter received a pistol shot wound, which was not dangerous however

High Freight on Wheat

That the Bulletin should be greatly exercised over the showing we have made of the enormous freight charges on the products of the Wallamet Valley, surprises no one, for it is well understood the Bulletin resents as a grave offense, everything that tends to attract the attention of the producers of the State to the burdens which are placed upon them for the benefit of the owner of that paper It is therefore, not so important to the community that has these burdens to bear to know whether the Bulletin tells the truth about the matter as it is to know just what the truth is We have heretofore presented quotations from the most reliable commercial journals of the Atlantic States showing the price of freights in these States as compared with that in the Wallamet Valley, and have shown that our producers had to pay about seven times as much, according to the distance of transportation, to get their wheat to the seaboard as do the people of those States Making all due allowance for shorter lines of transportation it can hardly be claimed that this enormous difference is satisfactorily accounted for No candid person will deny that the transportation over a short line should be relatively higher than on a long one, but a difference of six hundred per cent, we submit is crowding the matter a little Such charges can not but strangle our commerce in its infancy It may be to the advantage of the owner of the transportation lines for the present, but if he expects to continue in the business for a series of years, it certainly would be no insulting his own interest, as well as that of the people, not to choke out the industries of the country If he does not consider this suggestion worthy of consideration, he can console himself with the idea that it does not cost him anything, but the people, meanwhile, can not feel so indifferent in the matter The farmers have their livings to make, and they can not do it so long as the cost of carrying their produce to market, takes away all the profits of husbandry

Mr Holladay's paper may devote as many columns daily to the mystification of the subject as seems best to subserve his purposes, but the stubborn facts remain that freights on wheat by rail are several hundred per cent above the charges in the Northern States for the same distance

Here is another fact to be considered Freights must be classified In other countries it is done, and we suppose it is in Oregon While the transportation of a bushel of wheat from Buffalo to Albany, a distance of 400 miles, costs 13¼ cents that of a bushel of barley costs only 7 to 8¾ cents The current price of wheat in the market is to be considered as a basis of freight tariff We have taken the Eastern quotations of prime Michigan wheat and compared them with Oregon wheat, believing that our staple is equal to the best Eastern article By this comparison it appears that while the producer in the Northwest can pay freight on his wheat a distance of eight hundred miles and still realize on it $1 70¾ currency per bushel, not, our producer cannot pay freight one hundred and twenty six miles and realize over 52¼ cents com or about 60 cents currency Now if it is true for the purpose of justifying high freights that wages and expenses of living are higher here than in the East, is it not also true for the purpose of determining the price of grain?

Let the average quality of wheat in the East be taken as the proper standard with which to compare ours The Bulletin admits the average article in the East to be worth $1 71 This reduces the difference in value 22 cents still leaving to the farmer a balance of $1 50¾ currency per bushel net, in the East, against 60 cents currency net, in Oregon

There can be no good reason assigned why our farmers should pay as much for carrying seventy-five cents worth of produce one hundred and twenty six miles, as an Illinois or Michigan farmer pays for carrying twice that amount, an value, eight hundred miles

Any person who thinks he can tell from the utterances of Horace Greeley to day, what will be his opinions to-morrow, is invited to compare the following quotations from that "philosopher and statesman." The first is from his Pittsburg serenade speech of September 19th

"I demanded that there should be a fair, open, free discussion before that Southern people, and an honest, unterrified, unconstrained vote and, if they approved, of the people of the South and they wanted dissolution I WOULD CONSENT TO IT"

"And now to day of the nation was to be imperiled and there were just two roads of escape to it to trust to the chances of civil war, or to the chances of a fair vote of the whole people, I would very gratefully prefer to take the latter chance rather than the former"

The second is from his serenade speech at Cincinnati the next evening

"Last evening, at Pittsburg, in the course of some off hand remarks to a vast assemblage like this, I took pains to explain the circumstances, the extraordinary, unprecedented circumstances under which I was impelled in the winter of 1860 to offer in good faith to submit the whole question of union or disunion to a free unconstrained vote of the Southern people These remarks which I made last evening have been misrepresented, have been, I think perverted into an expression of a present belief, a present conviction, that any State has a right to dissolve this Union at its own good pleasure Fellow citizens, I utterly repudiate and condemn that sentiment [Cheers] I do not believe that one State, or that ten States, or that even a majority of all the States, have a moral legal or Constitutional right to dissolve our Union"

The 'philosopher and statesman' evidently had discovered that his Pittsburg address was a most unfortunate mistake, which it behooved him to correct by taking the other side as speedily as possible

At last tardy justice seems likely to overtake one of the principal operators in the Tammany corruptions Mayor Hall is on his trial for the crime of robbing the people of New York City, in connection with the rest of that ring of swindlers known as the Tammany thieves The trial has barely commenced, but it has proceeded far enough to show that the defense is to consist merely of legal quibbles The proposition of the defense to prove that although the Mayor did certify bills as audited, which in fact had never been examined, he only did as has been the habit of others was a mere begging of the question of his guilt and an attempt to create a diversion of public sentiment, in favor of the defendant The court very promptly and properly disposed of that subterfuge If other officers had been guilty of criminal misfeasance of the same kind that this defendant was on trial for that did not excuse him.

The next step showed still more strongly the desperate character of the defense The idea that Mayor Hall was in doubt whether the signatures to the false vouchers were his genuine signatures, is a bald absurdity Mayor Hall, being on trial for a high crime, could not be required by law, to confess or deny his signature to any paper that might be offered in evidence against him and his not doing so would not be construed as a circumstance tending to prove his guilt but when he voluntarily took it upon himself to say anything upon the subject, and declared himself unable to identify his own sign manual, he furnished to a reasonable mind as strong evidence of his guilt, as if he had positively denied the signatures Whom the Gods would destroy, they first make mad

Washington County Politics

On November 4th 1872, Hon J. H Mitchell Senator elect will address the citizens of Washington county, at Hillsboro on the political issues of the day Every Republican in the county should lay aside business and join in giving Mr Mitchell a grand welcome, thus showing to the opposite party that it matters not how bitter may be the contest in local matters, or, how warmly factions may contend with each other for the supremacy, when the great interests of the State and nation are involved the Republicans can rise superior to all faction, and work shoulder to shoulder for the triumph of their principles. Old Washington county, the friend of freedom and civil liberty, always gives her verdict in favor of humanity and equality before the law

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS

The United States sloop of war St. Marys, which has been lying in Esquimalt harbor for several weeks past, started on Wednesday last on a cruise, the object of which is to find a supposed reef of rocks reported to exist about 600 miles west of San Francisco

The Quebec Budget says It is confidently reported that the shareholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad expended large sums of money in the Dominion elections to oust the present Government, so as to help to crush the Canadian Pacific Railroad If such is the case, what must be thought of the Opposition?

In June last a man named Benedict was arrested in New York on a prosecution for libel His bail was fixed at $30,000, and Henry Ward Beecher became his bondsman On the 12th inst Mr Beecher discovered certain facts which led him to suspect danger of the forfeiture of the bond and he withdrew from the bond Benedict now lies in a New York jail.

CITY.

ABSENT BUT NOT FORGOTTEN —On last January the Police of the city found on the cabin of one J Wilson, in the northwestern suburbs of the city, what he thought contained a large amount of goods A search of the premises revealed nothing of the kind suspected, in the cabin Wilson was found secreted, and sentenced to county jail for 6 months A cabin which stood but a short distance was also searched at the same time, and was also found to contain articles recovered. This cabin was occupied by an old fellow called Tom Moore, known as "Old Steak Tom" Thomas, whose sister Mrs Moore, caught wind of the search being made by the police, and availing herself of the darkness, made a sudden exit from the city, and was soon no more. The circumstance was then erased from the public recollection, and thought no more of. Probably Moore had a defective memory and forgot the fact, which prompted his departure from the city, for he has, it may, be returned to Portland with an offended tour to Washington Territory, and had not landed on these hospitable shores than a couple of hours, when officer Lappeus arrested him on a charge of larceny, for which offense Moore is now in jail, and will probably be taken up this morning.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.—Articles of incorporations were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday, by Messrs. Joseph Carbett B Goldsmith, Joseph Kelly and Thomas Marshall

The name and title of the incorporation company is the "Willamette River Transportation Company."

The object of the corporation, and the business in which it proposes to engage, is the transportation by steam and otherwise, of the products of the country from its mouth to Eugene City and the intervening tributaries from their mouths to the head of navigation as follows Yamhill river from its mouth to the town of Lafayette, the Santiam river from its mouth to the town of Jefferson, together with the construction and use of all necessary locks, dams, or clay roads, and bridges at any or all of said rivers

The principal office and place of business is Portland, Oregon.

The capital stock of the corporation is $100,000 the number of shares is 1,000 and the amount of each share is $100.

It is the present calculation of the company to be able to carry freight to and from all points along the Willamet or its tributaries above designated, within ninety days

ALL IN AN HOUR —A gentleman just from Minnville gives us the particulars of a row that occurred in that place a few nights since, in which is said sometimes to "paint the town red," was caught on the alert and quickly quelled by the administered Last Sunday evening a party of men supposed to hail from this city, arrived in the town of McMinnville Soon after their arrival they got drunk At about 2 o'clock on Monday morning he sought lodgings at the hotel. In this he succeeded in taking a satisfactory turn he became boisterous and belligerent The landlord to enforce peace in his house decently ejected the disturbing element, and the fellow returned, finding him very drunk and noisy made complaint and had him arrested The Justice was aroused from his slumbers even at that early hour, and the brawler was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, or be sentenced to jail for disorderly conduct The prisoner was sent without delay to Lafayette, and locked up in jail before 8 o'clock. The Reporter thinks that justice doesn't lag much behind in McMinnville for he got drunk, was soundly thrashed, was fined and sentenced and sent to jail in the space of one brief hour This circumstance would be surpassed in the legal or criminal proceedings of Portland, where system prevails and justice are in perfect running condition

PIPE LAYING —All the wooden pipe necessary to this port on the steamer California arrived here some days ago, from Olympia, have been taken to the reservoir in the Addition, and laid from near the bridge on the line of the avenue, down toward the east The distance is about twenty blocks or 1,000 yards All the necessary connections are made, etc, have been made of these wooden pipes The powerful Turbine water wheel in being put in running condition near Sullivan's Gulch a ditch deg from the spring to the reservoir The water from the spring is to drive the wheel, and the wheel is to force the water to the top of the hill, whence it will be led by the pipes, to the depot. One of the principal features of these Water Works are to supply the locomotives at the depot At present, the water used to fill the boilers of the locomotives at the depot is pumped by hand into the tank What is in condition to force the water from the spring through the pipe, a constant and unfailing supply of this indispensable article can be had without the aid of human labor.

TALL MEN.—It has been a subject of remark that Yamhill county has furnished more eminent men than any other section of the State That may all be very true, but there is no doubt that Polk county which will certainly "discount" Yamhill in the raising of tall men. We have a Polk county Yesterday a young man who will just pass his majority, walked into a dry goods store in this city. There was nothing extraordinary about the appearance of the man except his long standing proportions, which were given merchant-ogled his customer from soles to crown for the space of a few seconds, and then walked up to it up like a man. The young fellow is six feet seven inches

CITY.

ABSENT, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN.—On the 11th of last January the Police of the city made a raid on the cabin of one J. Wilson, situated in the northwestern suburbs of the city, which, it was thought, contained a large amount of stolen goods. A search of the premises confirmed suspicions. A number of purloined articles were found secreted in the cabin. Wilson was captured, tried and sentenced to county jail for eight months. A cabin which stood but a short distance away, was also searched at the same time, and several stolen articles recovered. This cabin was tenanted by an old fellow called Tom Moore, alias "Beef Steak Tom." Thomas, whose sir name was Moore, caught wind of the investigations being made by the police, and availing himself of the darkness, made a sudden exit from the city, and was seen no more. The circumstance was soon erased from the public recollection, and was thought no more of. Probably Moore himself had a defective memory and forgot the reasons which prompted his departure from the city. Be that as it may, he returned to Portland yesterday from an extended tour to Washington Territory. He had not landed on these hospitable shores much more than a couple of hours, when officer Kelley arrested him on a charge of larceny, committed last winter. Moore is now in jail, and his case will be taken up this morning.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.—Articles of Incorporations were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday, by Messrs. Joseph Teal, Elijah Corbett, B. Goldsmith, Joseph Kellogg and Geo. Marshall.

The name and title of the incorporated company is the "Willamette River Transportation Company."

The object of the corporation, and the business in which it proposes to engage, is the navigation by steam and otherwise, of the Willamet river from its mouth to Eugene City and all the tributary streams thereof, from their mouths respectively, as follows: Yamhill river from its mouth to the town of Lafayette; the Santiam river from its mouth to the town of Jefferson, together with the construction and use of all necessary rail plank or clay roads, and bridges at any of the portages of said rivers.

The principal office and place of business is at Portland, Oregon.

The capital stock of the corporation is $100,000. The number of shares is 1,000, and the amount of each share is $100.

It is the present calculation of this Company to be able to carry freight to and from any point along the Willamet or its tributaries as above designated, within ninety days.

ALL IN AN HOUR.—A gentleman just from McMinnville gives us the particulars of a case which occurred in that place a few nights ago, wherein justice, which is said sometimes to "sleep but not die," was caught on the alert and summarily administered. Last Sunday evening a "rough," supposed to hail from this city, arrived at the town of McMinnville. Soon after his arrival he got drunk. At about 2 o'clock on Monday morning he sought lodgings at the hotel. Things not taking a satisfactory turn he became turbulent and bellicose. The landlord to enforce order in his house decently flogged the fellow, but finding him very drunk and noisy made complaint, and had him arrested. The justice was awakened, even at that early hour, and the brawler tried and sentenced to jail for disorderly conduct. The prisoner was sent without delay to Lafayette and locked up in jail before 8 o'clock. That offender thinks that justice doesn't lag much in Yamhill, for he got drunk, was soundly thrashed, tried, sentenced and sent five miles to jail, all within one brief hour. That circumstance cannot be surpassed in the legal or criminal proceedings of Portland, where system prevails and the mills of justice are in perfect running condition.

FIRE LAYING.—All the wooden pipes brought to this port on the steamer California a few weeks ago, from Olympia, have been taken to Holladay's Addition, and laid from near the bridge at the end of the avenue, down toward the east side depot. The distance is about twenty blocks, or 1,400 yards. All the necessary connections, joinings, etc., have been made of these wooden pipes. A powerful Turbine water wheel is being placed in running condition near Sullivan's Springs, and a direct line from the spring to the wheel. The water from the spring is intended to drive the wheel, and the wheel will force the water to the top of the hill from whence it will be led by the pipes already laid, to the depot. One of the principal objects of these Water Works are to supply the reservoirs at the depot. At present, the water used to replenish the boilers of the locomotives at the wharf, is pumped by hand into the tank. When the wheel is in condition to force the water from the spring through the pipes, a constant and unfailing supply of this indispensable article can be furnished without the aid of human labor.

TALL MEN.—It has been a subject of frequent remark that Yamhill county has furnished more tall men than any other section of the State. That may all be very true, but there is an adjoining county which will certainly "discount" Yamhill in the raising of tall men. We allude to Polk county. Yesterday a young man, scarcely past his majority, walked into a dry goods store in this city. There was nothing extraordinary about the appearance of the man except his towering proportions, which were, giant-like. The merchant eyed his customer from sole to crown, for the space of a few seconds, and then he gave it up like a man. The young fellow stood only six feet seven inches in his stockings. Seeing the astonishment in the dealer in calico, the fellow smiled all over, and remarked that his height should not be a matter of surprise to any one, he came from Polk county, and that in his immediate neighborhood there lived two other young men about his age, and that there was not the space of half an inch between all three in height. Polk now takes the sponge.

NEW CUSTOM HOUSE.—Work on the new Custom House in this city is progressing with encouraging rapidity toward completion. If good weather is vouchsafed, the entire stone work will be completed by or before the last day of November. The California, brought over a full cargo of stone, which will be fashioned into proper shape with the chisel and mallet, as soon as the stone masons can reduce them to such a desirable condition, and will occupy their appropriate positions in this handsome and enduring structure. So near completion has this building approached, that twenty-five more stones besides the present cargo of the California, will be sufficient to finish it. This will complete the furnishing contract between the contractors and the United States government. Twelve men are constantly employed at the quarry at Bellingham Bay, and the required amount of stone will be ready for shipment to this port by the time the California can reach that point on her return from Victoria.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship John L. Stephens sailed for San Francisco last evening, from this port. The following persons took passage: Mrs J L Morton, Mrs M V Gran, J T French, H S Allen, A R Hastings, W C McDonald, Mrs J Vance and three children, A B Stevens and daughter, H Derr, M Davis, W E Richardson, Jno H Hayward, J F Perkins, J P Stone, Geo Scantling, U S A, Lieut Hubbard, U S A, Lieut Jones, U S A, Lieut Chote, U S A, Lieut Starring, U S A, Wm Sawler and wife, Mrs L Miller, Miss Annie E Rice, Mr E E Rice and wife, Francis Cleveland, wife and two children, W H Pomroy, W G Jamison, W B Frisbee, N Pearson, J Engelsh, J B Gustain, Mrs Todd, Col Pennington, U S A, wife, two children and servant, Sister Aloysius, Sister Rose Mary, T G Lowe, A L Hastings, Phil Bean, Chas Jennings and wife, Mrs B A Davidson and child, J W Murphy, L Nicholl, J A Dow, Mrs S Crosson, and 60 steerage.

CIRCUIT COURT CALENDAR.—The Circuit Court Calendar for the November term of the Circuit Court, which will commence on the 11th of next month, is being made out by the County Clerk, as rapidly as the cases are brought in and filed. As the law allows cases filed up to within ten days of the convening of the court, to be entered on the docket for trial, the calendar will not be declared closed until the second of November. Up to the present date, there has been filed 115 law cases, 23 chancery or equity cases, and 17 criminal cases, classified as follows: Larceny, 3; subornation of perjury, 1; threatening to kill, 1; receiving stolen goods, 1; assault with a dangerous weapon, 4; assault and battery, 1; libel, 1; tearing down a fence, 1; assault with intent to commit rape, 1; assault with intent to commit larceny, 1; murder, 1; keeping a bawdy house, 1. From present indications there will be a full docket to dispose of at the coming term.

FRONTIER LIFE.—During the continuance of the State Legislature, our city subscribers have not received their morning papers as early as formerly, in consequence of the great press of matter. In future, subscribers will be served with the news earlier.

TRACK REMOVED.—We are informed that the Railroad Company are causing all the surplus track along the east side, to be taken up. Much track has been laid at various points, which in the work of constructing, ballasting, grareling, etc., was found necessary. Now that such sidetracks are no longer of use to the company, they will be torn up, and the ties also removed. Along a road of nearly 200 miles, in active operation, there is always more or less repairs constantly necessary. Many of the rails, of inferior quality, soon shatter and splinter up by the heavy trains, and must be replaced. These surplus rails will be applied in this way as repairs to the road may from time to time require. The rails not used in this manner, will probably be used in the extension of the road.

EMBANKMENT CAVED.—Yesterday, as the steam paddy was engaged at work near the summit, a portion of the embankment caved in. A man named Murray, who was employed about the machine, happened to be standing, at the time, between the bank and the paddy. He saw the earth falling but was unable to get out in time. The caving embankment caught him between two timbers of the paddy. His left side was badly jammed, two ribs broken and one of his legs severely bruised. Murray was speedily removed to the Company's hospital and his injuries attended to. No apprehensions are entertained as to the result. The injuries are severe but not regarded as dangerous.

IN THE CHANNEL.—The steamer John L. Stephens sailed last evening for San Francisco. At the time of sailing it was not known whether the bark Loch Dee had been taken from the point where that vessel has been aground since last Sunday. As the bark was directly in the channel yesterday it was determined to take the steamer down to Swan Island, and if the Loch Dee was still aground, to cast anchor at a safe distance away, and wait till the bark was taken off or else shift her position. It was deemed hazardous by the pilot to attempt passing the bark while she was lying in the center of the channel.

PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.—Early yesterday morning a man, who had been "swinging round the circle," desiring to "put himself in his little bed," stumbled into one of the Oregon Transfer Company's hacks, and was soon in the "land of nod." Shifting about for a more comfortable position, he pushed his foot through the window sash in the door, which attracted the attention of the employees of the stable, who repaired to the scene of the disturbance. A valiant fellow undertook to collar him and take the intruder to jail, but was neatly tipped up and in a moment the offender was lost to view.

COMING.—A dispatch was received in this city yesterday from the "Escaped Nun," Miss Edith O'Gorman, stating that she would take passage on the steamer Oriflamme for this city. Miss O'Gorman is widely known on this coast as a lecturess. She has been traveling through California and Nevada for the last six months, lecturing extensively. She has succeeded in attracting general public attention, and has never failed to draw large houses where she has spoken. Of her talent as a public lecturer, the press and people have expressed a variety of opinion.

WHO IS HE?—The New York Mail of a late date says: "Portland has a 'masked man' who goes forth each night on a career of 'high emprise.' He assaults women, knocks downmen and is a terror to small boys. This adventurous and daring knight may be a very interesting character to make paragraphs about, but if we dwelt in the goodly town of Portland we should insist upon some robust policeman putting a stop to his career of glory." We should like to put the following conundrum: Who is this reported irresponsible "masked" monster?

SURVEYING PARTY.—The Northern Pacific Railroad surveying party who have been engaged in running a preliminary line along the north side of the Columbia river for the last few weeks, have been ordered, so we learn, to the south side of the river. Acting in accordance with such instructions the party crossed the Columbia just above the Upper Cascades a week ago last Thursday, and are now engaged in making the preliminary surveys from the Cascades to this city.

FALSE PRETENSES.—A man named John Campbell was arrested last evening on a warrant issued from the Police Court, on the complaint of P. Stewart. PLYMOUTH SABBATH SCHOOL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:
The impression made by some late newspaper items that North Portland had been neglected and was destitute of religious privileges, until the Sabbath School was begun a year ago at the Rink, and transferred to the School House, is entirely incorrect and misleading.

The Sabbath School at the Plymouth Church, corner of E and Fourteenth streets, on the Couch Addition, North Portland, was commenced three years ago this month, with about a dozen pupils, under the care of Deacon G. Shindler, assisted by G. R. Smith and others. It has continued without intermission every Sabbath since with increasing interest. On its roll, one hundred and seventy five names of pupils have been entered, of whom seventy-five remain on the list, with an average attendance of fifty to sixty.

It has a good Library, though much used, which has been several times replenished from that of the First Congregational Sunday School, and a fine assortment of Sunday School papers, distributed regularly every week. It opens with pleasant and earnest singing from 3 o'clock to 3:15 P. M.—its hour of meeting,—accompanied by the melodeon, a gift of the Superintendent and one of the former teachers.

After the Sunday School, a discourse of ten or fifteen minutes, usually follows, by the pastor upon some topic in the lesson of the day.

A prayer meeting has been held in the Plymouth Church on Tuesday evening for several weeks.

By the steadfast faithfulness of a few this work has been continued. We invite more helpers, and prefer a welcome to all, young and old, to gather here for the study of God's word, and for His worship.

The Trustees of the property hope soon to finish the building, for which they are now collecting the materials and subscriptions.

Several friends have liberally aided this enterprise, among whom Capt. and Mrs. Cowell, who gave the lots, should be mentioned. It is thus far free from debt. We now need funds to complete it.

AMUSEMENTS.

The great sensational play of "Early California," will be rendered this evening at Oro Fino Theater by the present company. This splendid piece has been in active course of preparation for several weeks, and will be produced in the best possible style—scenic effects, costumes, properties, etc., introduced with special reference and fitness for play. The public should not fail to see "Early California" this evening.

"The Irish Emigrant" and "Turn Him Out," was offered to the public last evening at the Theater to a very fair house. Both pieces were rendered in true rollicking style, and did not fail to impart fun and satisfaction to the audience. During the interlude, Mr. Samuel Piercy recited "The Vagabond" in a manner reflecting great credit and calling down a meed of applause. This afternoon a grand matinee will be given on which occasion "The Irish Emigrant" and "Turn Him Out," will be offered the public.

Undeveloped Vigor.
The feeble and debilitated usually fancy they are in more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and lustreless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpable evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality; but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe and reliable means of awakening the dormant energies of the system, is a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Electricity, shower-baths, the flesh brush, sea bathing etc., may do well enough in their way as auxiliaries, but they do not reach the source of the evil. All physical debility proceeds either from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating, secretive and vital organs, or from a sluggish constitution. In either case and also in cases where both causes exist, the Bitters will invariably produce an immediate and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually effect a complete cure. None of the dangerous alkalods, too often administered as tonics, can be otherwise than deleterious under such circumstances, and to give mercury, is positively criminal. The direct effect of this great vegetable specific will be manifested in an improved appetite, a more cheerful frame of mind, a gradual return of strength, an increase of flesh, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile, however, the constitution, if frame and feeble, will have been roused and renovated by the subtile elements of invigoration contained in the Bitters.

PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.—1860—X.
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the shoot-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Bank Reserves

[From the St Paul Press]

The recent severe stringency of money in all the great financial centers east and west has called out a good deal of criticism of the national banking law, which requires a certain proportion of a bank's cash liabilities to be held as a reserve, or deed weight ostensibly for the purpose of fortifying that bank against all possible contingencies Thus if a national bank in New York Chicago or St Louis has deposits and outstanding circulation to an aggregate of a million dollars it is bound to keep in its own vaults or in the hands of redeeming or reserve agents one quarter of that sum or $250 000 which it may not lawfully use in any emergency what ever except to redeem its circulation or to pay off its depositors and then in case of a run only in proportion of one quarter of the reserves to three quarters of other assets so long as there is no unusual call for the payment of deposits or the redemption of circulation this reserve must remain untouched, no matter what the necessities of the mercantile community, which creates and sustains the banks may be Through this inflexible provision millions of dollars have during the recent pinch for money among all commercial men throughout the country, lain dormant and unused in the vaults of the city banks, when the loaning of a portion of the reserve, or its transmission to the centres of agricultural production to aid in moving the crops, would have proved a very sensible means of relief The reserves of the banks, unlike those of a good general, may not be used at all, however great the emergency, unless an unusual call is made by depositors or bill holders They are like the accumulated savings for a "rainy day of the thrifty mechanic or laborer, except that when the rainy day comes they must not be utilized They are, in fact, good for nothing—mere idle, dead weight—unless a panic occurs—a catastrophe which their close locking up, in times of intense commercial need, is well calculated to bring up

A number of the ablest financial writers of the country sharply denounce the inflexibility of the law relative to reserves, as placing the banks and the mercantile communities everywhere, in times of great stringency, at the mercy of speculative gamblers By locking up the reserves, and forcing the banks to retain on hand, in legal money, 25 per cent of their entire liabilities through thick and thin, the efforts of speculators to increase a monetary stringency for their own purposes are promoted, as their attacks are invited Of what use is a reserve, it is asked that is not to be called upon, whatever be the emergency? A financial authority, the New York Daily Bulletin, gives its answer to the query as follows

The reserves of a bank, like those of an individual, can have no other reason than to be used when deemed necessary and judicious. And their use is momentis of emergency will generally enable the banks to pass successfully through moments of difficulty, just as the reserves of individuals enable there to pass successfully through them; such moments reserves should be encroached upon without the slightest hesitation, and that to the last cent, for the sole purpose better than any other the debtors of the banks, and not on these and not on their reserves that banks mainly depend to meet their own liabilities The great error of legislators, theorists and bank men is they keep their attention so closely rivited on the gold and legal tenders held by the banks that they lose sight of the more important question of the well being of the banks and of the community, since the operations of merchants are indispensable to the exchange of the products of labor

The argument of the Bulletin, that a bank should look out for the interests of its debtors, is so obviously sound that it needs but to be stated to be acknowledged by all bankers whose minds are capable of an idea beyond cast-iron routine No banker can afford to drive his constituency to bankruptcy, for in the general crash he is sure to lose heavily. On the contrary the good banker will, in times of abnormal or unexpected stringency, use his utmost endeavors, and if necessary, strain the letter of the law to the very last degree of tension, to carry his customers—who are also his debtors—through the pinch, and he will do this from sheer self interest, whether he has a sympathetic heart in his breast or not But the martinet—he who was trained to do certain things in a certain way and no other, and who knows nothing but the unalterable routine to which his life has been devoted—watches carefully for signs of a pressure, and the moment it comes he double locks his money bags and refuses all requests for aid from his customers, with the immobility of a graven image and the stupidity of an Egyptian mummy Not only may it be asked what reserves are for but to be used in tight times, but what is the benefit of banks but to afford aid to their customers when they most need it? If all the bank managers of the country had been of the martinet description, probably half the business houses of the country would, in this unexpected stringency, have been compelled to suspend payment, but as it is the commercial interests of the country have been carried safely through a sudden and almost unexampled pressure by men who possessed minds above red tape When the pressure was at its height red tape stood in their way, but a single snip of the bank shears cut it, and if general calamity was avoided, but without the help of the cast-iron banker Generals Halleck and McClellan were devoted to red tape and to the ancient rule of war, and neither of them ever won a battle Grant and Sheridan cast the old rules to the winds when the saw fit, and they won everything The intrepid heroes of bank parlors, east and west, who within a month have saved the merchants of the nation from panic and bankruptcy, are entailed to the full meed of praise for one of the victories of peace which should be no less renowned than those of war.

Lead Pencils

A lead pencil is in itself a small affair, but, considered as a manufactured product, it rises into much importance. To start a first-class factory, with improved machinery and stock of well seasoned wood, requires a capital of about $100,000; the ground covered is about half an acre, chiefly occupied by drying houses for the storage of red cedar. The Florida red cedar is mostly used in this country and in Europe, some "iben" wood, as the Germans call it, or English yew, is used in Germany, white pine is occasionally used for a common grade of a carpenter's pencil

The "lead" of the pencils is the well known graphite or plumbago, the best of this is the natural, found in a pure state in masses large enough to cut into strips. Of this there is but one mine now up to the standard, which is in Asiatic Siberia, and pencils made from this graphite are all one grade, and pay here 50 cents per gross special, and 30 per cent ad valorem duty The Cumberland mines in England were the first discovered but are now almost exhausted What was formerly refuse in cutting the graphite is now ground, cleaned and refined, and then mixed with a fine clay.

In mixing the clay and graphite, great care must be taken in selecting and cleaning the clay and getting the proper proportions the mixture, with water, after being well kneaded is placed in a large receiver and strongly compressed and forced out through a small groove at the bottom, in the shape of a thread of the thickness and style required—either square octagon, or round This thread, of lead wire is cut in bars of the proper length (done by little girls,) and then straightened, dried at a moderate heat, and packed in air tight crucibles and placed in the furnaces the grade of the lead depends upon the amount of heat it is exposed to, the amount of clay used in mixing, and the quality of the plumbago The coloring of the lead is by various pigments.

The wood, after being thoroughly seasoned is cut into thin strips and dried again then cut into thin strips pencil length These strips are grooved by machinery, then carried on a belt to the glueing room where the lead is glued in the groove, and then the other half of the pencil glued on After being dried under pressure, they are sent to the turning room and rounded squared or made octagon by a very ingenious little machine, which passes them through three sets of cutters and drops them ready for polishing or coloring The former is done on lathe by boys, and the latter by a machine, which holds the brush and turns the pencils fed to it through a hopper. After the pencils polished, it is cut the exact length by a circular saw and the end is cut smooth by a drop knife the pencil rested ing on an iron bed

The stamping is done by a hollow die which is heated the gold or silver foil is then laid on the pencil which rests in an iron bed and the die is then pressed on it by a screw lever The pencils are then ready to go to the packing room whence they find their way to all parts of the civilized world at prices ranging from two dollars to twenty dollars per gross American Exchange and Review

The assessment rolls of the several counties of Minnesota foot up an aggregate taxable property of $110 000 000 an increase of $20 000 000 over the assessment of last year

Average California Wheat in Liverpool, 12s 6d@12s 9d.

Club Wheat, 11s 3d

The steamship John L Stephens sailed this evening for San Francisco, with passengers and a large freight

The Jane A Falkinburg has completed discharging her cargo She will receive a considerable quantity of freight at this port, and then go down the river for the remainder of the cargo for Honolulu

The bark Free Trade and brig Perpetua arrived at San Francisco from Astoria on the 20th, with cargoes of lumber

The steamer California arrived this morning from Victoria and Sound ports. She brought a small quantity of assorted cargo, and 280 tons of stone for the new Custom House,

No vessels are reported off the bar by the steamer California.

The ship Siam has commenced to receive cargo for Liverpool

The Californed is discharging stone at the Steamship Company s dock

The steamer George S Wright will soon be due from Sitka.

Several vessels are due at this port

The bark Forward is announced to sail for Hongkong on the first of next month

The bark Loch Lee at last accounts was down near the head of Bwau Island, aground The steamer Dixie Thompson was engaged to-day in lightering her

The day presents no new features in the Money market, and the inactivity prevailing earlier in the week still continues, though there are special cases of inconvenience to note Doubtless a return for our surplus crops will bring into the country a sufficient amount of funds to conduct the legitimate business without serious burden A disposition of our surplus Wheat only, at even the low price of 90 cents a bushel would bring into circulation the sum of at least $1,500,000, which would be a very comfortable addition to the capital of our comparatively small State True it is if we had shipping facilities and purchasers were willing to take the crop it is not likely that there would be the amount named placed in our midst; but any one acquainted with the condition of affairs in Oregon to day can form a fair idea of the direct addition to the coin capital of the country that would result from the sale of two-thirds of our surplus crops for the year This idea is at variance with the proposition that our State is poorer than before, for although money is scarce we have that which is equally as good It also demonstrates the fact that the one thing needful to make this capital available is a better supply of shipping The small number of sailing vessels visiting our port this season is the great drawback upon our prosperity and great anxiety is manifested in all quarters as to how and when relief will come At present there are several vessels on their way here to arrive at various times from now till the beginning of next year but they are still inefficient to move a moiety of the freight which which would offer at former rates,

The rat e ruling for Wheat in different sections of Oregon and Washington Territory are about as follows according to our latest advices by mail At Walla Walla 40@45c per bushel at Olympia, 85@90c; at Albany, 85@86c; at Portland 75c This is without sacks—except at Olympia

The crop of oats was saved in good condition and is said to have been very nearly an average except for late sown which fell short on account of the long drouth Prices are firm at $1 25@1 40 per hundred

Barley was not an average crop in quantity, probably owing to a smaller acreage rather than a falling in productiveness The receipts for the week past have been quite light, all offering being taken for the local trade We hear of no important shipments occurring

Flour is in good supply and is being offered for shipment in considerable quantities Rates rule as at last report with some tendency to declines in the market

Potatoes are plenty and show a disposition to shade off a little Quite a quantity go by the Stephens this evening.

Dairy products are in rather better supply though rates remain at the figures last given

Eggs are firmer and scarcer receipts for the day being small

Fruit in season is plentiful and prices no better
